WATER, Jr., 120 Broad st., Elizabeth, N. J. Attentions of persons read the "want page" every day. If you are not one of them you will find it to your interest to do likewise.

The Big Men of To-day Know the Value of the Little "Want Ad."

You can't question the business judgment of such successful concerns as the Standard Oil Company, employing over 65,000 people; the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, employing over 25,000 people; the National Cash Register Company, employing nearly 10,000 people. These and thousands of other big concerns secure many of their workers by the use of the 'Want Ad" columns in the daily newspapers.

To-day the "Want" columns of newspapers, from ocean to ocean and from Maine to the Gulf, contain "Help Wanted" advertisements representing some of the largest concerns in this country. Many of the smaller concerns often overlook the best method of securing help quickest-the "Want Ad Way"--employing untried, expensive methods to tell of their help needs, thereby losing valuable time, and generally accomplishing nothing. Don't think the "Want Ads" beneath you because of their size. If we would bring together at one time all of the people who had ever been benefited by the reading or using of "Want Ads," we would have an army of many thousands of
